DEVELOPMENT HELP FOR NONPROFITS

About Your Presenter:

• 30+ Years in Non-Profit Sector
  Volunteer, Staff Member, Board Member, Consultant!
• 10+ Years Fund Development including
  Grants, Direct Mail, Capital Campaigns and more!
• Peer Reviewer and Chair of Reviews for the Office of Community Service (Federal Grant Reviewer)
• 22 million in grants awarded in past 15 years
THE OBJECTIVES OF THIS SESSION:

A. Converting ideas into fundable projects
B. Navigating grant opportunities and identifying which are worth your time
C. Identifying the key elements of a successful proposal
D. Working through the general outline of the Community Foundation grant application

WHAT MAKES YOUR PROJECT FUNDABLE?

• Is it relevant?
• Does it answer an unmet need?
• Does it match your funder’s passions?
• Has it been well thought out and planned?
What are some steps to crafting fundable projects?

1. Identify who you are trying to serve and why
2. Identify who should be involved in the planning of the project
3. Identify what it will take to carry out the project (funding is just one aspect!)
4. Identify who might want to partner with you and why…
   a) Local citizens/community members
   b) Local or regional corporate partners?
   c) Local or regional foundations

Navigating Opportunities

- How do you decide what is a worthwhile opportunity to pursue?
  - Relationship
  - Focus/Mission alignment
  - Time vs. Dollar Amount
Elements of Successful Proposals

Who Are You?

What Do You Plan to Do?

How do You plan to do it?

And…How much do you need?

Your Community Foundation Application asks great questions!

- Mission Statement
- Project Summary
- Statement of Condition/Need
- Target Population
- Project Work Plan
- Measuring Impact
- Collaborations/Partnerships
- Sustainability
- Budget

Let’s look at some of these more in-depth
First… Consider how much information is the right amount?

Enough to convey key information, and answer the proposed question.

A word of caution: When you’re allowed more space, aim for this

Instead of this

The Our Youth Matter Program began during our nation’s Bicentennial Celebration, a time when Baltimore was cleaning up inner-city neighborhoods. Unfortunately, many families were being displaced.

During that time, a respected mental health counselor named Dr. Robert Townsend began a weekly forum with youth from the inner-city to hear their views and give a voice to their concerns. That first year one-hundred teens participated. Many agreed how good this adult-to-youth interface was for them, noting this structured of friendship helped them navigate the many challenges they faced. This was the seed from which our adult/youth mentorship program grew.

Baltimore’s inner-city streets are still evolving today. Within this landscape, mentorship programs that give voice to at-risk youth as they navigate life’s challenges remain our core focus of service.

What did we learn?

Did it leave an imprint?

What kind?
Think & Practice!

Tell the person sitting next to you
• who you are,
• when and why you started,
• and what good you create because you exist!

Summarizing your project

• Describe what you hope to learn or accomplish with this project or program.
• Include a concise description of the project/request including goals and expected outcomes.
• Describe also how it fits with your organizational mission and other programming.
Addressing the ‘What’ – Project Summary

Identify What You Are Going to Be Asking For:

Outline what you want to do, and why

The basis of good story telling always includes the Who, What, When, Where and Why.

• Tell how you determined or identified the need

• Tell how you will approach solving the identified problem, and why you chose this approach

• Tell how this program or project aligns with your strategic goals

Outline what you intend to do, and why it’s necessary.

• Tell how you determined or identified the need.

• Tell how you will approach solving this need, and why you chose this approach. (the ‘what’)

• Tell what exactly will happen (eg. 25 people will be served)

• Tell where and when it will take place. (location, times, etc.)
  • Will it have phases or be accomplished all at once?
Need – a few notes about this important section

• Document the needs of your community, service area, region, etc. with verifiable information. Use available statistics if possible to underscore the urgency of the situation.
• Make sure this is conveyed appropriately…do not over simplify or over-emphasize. Facts truly do speak for themselves.
• Do not show the problem as too big for your competency level to address!

Where’s the Beef?

• What are some ways to find data for THIS area or region?
• Brainstorm and let’s report!
They want us to note goals, outcomes, and Evaluation and measuring success…

What does this mean?

Goals are Big, Strong and Speak to the Reason You Engage what you do…

Objectives are ‘focus areas’ within that stated goal that help measure progress on the path toward reaching your goal

Outcomes are what happen when objectives are implemented through specific, identified ACTIVITIES.
• NOTE: Activities are Not Objectives —

• Objectives must have a measurement statement.

• Try to keep the number of objectives to three or less because you will need to measure these.

Sample:

The Goal of the ‘ABC Program’ is to eliminate Human Trafficking of youth in our area.

Objective 1: Inform.
Increase awareness of Youth Trafficking for up to 200 professionals in our region

Activities that support this objective:

a) Create brochures for law enforcement, health care workers and social service providers
b) Hold a multi-agency conference on the presence of Human Trafficking
c) Meet monthly with school counselors to …

Objective 2: Intervene.
Provide street-outreach services for up to 150 at-risk youth during the funding period

Activities that support this objective:

a) Outreach workers visit known teen hangouts 3 days weekly to identify potential trafficking victims
b) Outreach workers distribute food and emergency supplies to homeless, at-risk teens to gain trust
c) Outreach workers distribute emergency contact info for when teens are ready to accept help Let’s Practice!

Note ONE goal, and then TWO outcomes you would like to measure within that goal.

What are the activities that will support achieving the outcomes?

The ‘who’ – tell why YOU are capable

- Tell about your expertise or years of client service (e.g. from 2000 – 2018 we provided 100 children with quality programs and services)
- If you have specific expertise include that information (social workers, educators, specialists, etc.)
- Don’t over-state: Be brief, be bright, be done!
Example:

Since 1996, XYZ Organization has provided quality programs for area youth. We continually build capacity through training our staff in ‘ABC Best Practices’. Last year alone, 75 youth and family members received quality services from ‘XYZ’. We are poised to move forward with this initiative once funding has been realized.

It is our hope that you will partner with us in this important endeavor that complements your mission and vision ‘to enhance the quality of life for the residents of our regional community’.

86 words, 450 character spaces including line breaks (500 character limit provided)

Example 2:

Last year, the Chronicle News recognized our organization as the fastest growing conservation group in our state! That article authenticated our important work in this regional community, and highlights the value and trust our supporters have placed in us to cause this wonderful growth.

It is our hope that you will partner with us in preserving the natural environment for future generations to enjoy!

Budgets

Never underestimate the power of a clear, clean budget when words are limited.
