

Park County organizations working to locally address the issues outlined in the 2024 We Will Park County Report

We Will Park County is the Park County Community Foundation’s citizen-informed initiative designed to help residents determine our own future. For the last three years, PCCF has fielded the We Will Park County Community Survey, gathering residents’ opinions on the area’s current challenges and future opportunities. This year we heard from a record number of 940 individuals – and an impressive 97% of respondents believe it’s important to address challenges faced by individuals, groups, or communities locally.

Getting involved with local issues can include volunteering, attending public meetings, donating money, and/or contacting your local elected officials. The following list is offered to help you take any or all these next steps.

Each listed organization is hyperlinked to go directly to a website with more information. Printed versions of this document will also include phone numbers.

To learn more about Park County’s most pressing challenges and opportunities, we invite you to read the We Will Park County Report. You can find the report online at pccf-montana.org/WeWill or call the Park County Community Foundation office at 406-224-3920 to receive a printed copy.
